New Business

- Health & Wellness of Members: Sam reported that he had touched base with Pete Bostwick and Pete is having some medical issues that have been keeping him from attending the meetings, but he expects to be joining us again in a few months.
- Treasure report by Richard: Balance as of Jan. 31st is $495.65
- Sam S. has submitted to KANW and KUNM our meetings on the Community Calendar under the Meetings & Conventions category. If accepted the listings should begin in time for next month's meeting, and as the Newspaper ads, besides the date and time, just Sam's phone number and the email of president@afionm.org contact info is listed.

- Sam proposed the following for AFIO National Scholarship's:
Sam S. is putting together an informational flyer and will reach out to various higher education institutes in our state including CNM, UNM and NM State about the program. Please see National's website (www.afio.com) for Scholarships under the Members section for more information.

Old Business

- Chapter planning –
National has replied to Sam S. request for access to the NM State roster of National AFIO members with the following:
“At the beginning of each year, chapters are asked to send their roster of members to AFIO National. Once we receive that list, we will check to ensure that each chapter member is an AFIO member (a requirement of chapter membership) and will return the roster annotated to indicate which chapter members are not in good standing. So long as the majority of chapter members are in good standing, we will also include a listing of AFIO members located within a 75 mile radius of the chapter that you will be able to utilize for recruitment purposes.”
I have now sent them our roster of paid chapter members.
- Sam S. will put together an informational flyer for the AFIO National Scholarship program and will reach out to various higher education institutes in our state including CNM, UNM and NM State about the program. Please see National's website (www.afio.com) for Scholarships under the Members section for more information.

Presentation:

1210 - Dolph's discussion on events at the prison near Santa Fe on Feb. 2, 1980, when he was Secretary of Corrections for New Mexico. You can watch a trailer about his book at: <https://youtu.be/TqCiZnrHZv4>

Dolph completed his presentation and then invited Mahlon Love, former Commissioner of the New Mexico State Police during the riot, up to discuss his prospective and experiences during the riot. Mahlon, who was involved coordinating the team of State and local police, and the National Guard, filled in the efforts taken to determine the locations of all the prison guard hostages and either safely extricate them through negotiations or confirmed they were in a safe hiding place before they were able to go into the cell block to quash the riot. He related that there were no civilian, State Police, National Guard, or other non-inmate personnel fatalities. No shots were fired by the team during the several days this entire incident took place. Only 33 people died, all of which were inmates and by their own hand, not by any officials. He also showed a variety of inmate made weapons, taken during the aftermath, made of pieces cobbled together from various sources like beds, tools, and office supplies.

1250: Question and Answer period

1335: Rich Sullivan moved that the meeting be closed, and Bob Hull seconded the motion.

Upcoming Speakers:

March 13th: Tom Dyble - A book report on Ben Macintyre's "The Spy and the Traitor: The Greatest Espionage Story of the Cold War". It is the story of Oleg Gordievsky.
